Launch of the Wyoming Freedom Caucus

The Conscience of the Republican Party

CHEYENNE, WY: The Wyoming Freedom Caucus (WYFC) is proud to announce its official launch. With the 67th Legislative Session about to begin, the WYFC will fight for the conservative values shared by the people of Wyoming.

Previously known as the Wyoming House Freedom Caucus, the WYFC is the same principle-driven group, but now better resourced. Thanks to a partnership with the State Freedom Caucus Network, the WYFC is more equipped than ever to defend freedom and liberty in Wyoming not just during the legislative session, but all year round.

"The Wyoming Freedom Caucus exists as a reflection of the God fearing, self sufficient, liberty loving people all across our State. The members of our caucus each have proven track records in the battle for limited government, religious liberty, protecting the unborn, and the defense of our Constitutionally protected rights," said WYFC Chair John Bear (HD 31, Campbell).

The priorities of the WYFC include bolstering Wyoming's pro-life protections, restoring parental rights in education and expanding school choice, removing pornographic materials from public schools, reining in out-of-control property taxes, ensuring election integrity, and preventing the growth of government disguised as free health care from D.C.

"Numerically, Republicans have a supermajority in Wyoming, but if you examine legislative output, it doesn't look that way at all. The Wyoming Freedom Caucus is going to remind the majority of Wyoming Legislators of the platform they campaigned on. Our caucus is the conscience of the Republican Party," said Bear.
